

YOUR TEENAGER IS NOT A PROBLEM TO SOLVE.
THEY ARE AN AMANAH TO UNDERSTAND.

Adolescence is where faith, identity and mental health are formed, and where many Muslim families feel they lose their children. Imam Ayman Al-Taher brings together the Prophetic model of raising young people with what clinical psychology and neuroscience now teach about the teenage brain.

Written for parents, imams and community leaders, this volume explains who teenagers really are, what they need at each stage, and how adults can build the trust that makes guidance possible.

WHAT CLIENTS ARE SAYING

"He has taken a non-traditional approach that still remains grounded in Islamic values and our way of life... He listens with intention, creates a space that feels safe and balanced for both of us, and encourages empathy in a way that feels practical and deeply respectful."

"His approach is calm, clear, and compassionate, and always rooted in what will benefit the marriage, not just the individual."

"He combines his excellent grasp of the subject matter with a high level of empathy, kindness, trustworthiness and respect for his clientele."

A faith-aligned, clinically grounded roadmap for raising a generation that is rabbani: rooted in Allah, secure in who they are, and ready for the world they live in.
