

BETWEEN CHILDHOOD AND ADULthood, YOUR IDENTITY IS BEING WRITTEN.

University, work, independence, marriage questions and mental health all arrive at once in early adulthood, often far from home and far from support. Imam Ayman Al-Taher speaks directly to Muslim students and young adults navigating that transition.

Bringing together Islamic scholarship and clinical practice, he explains how a rabbani identity is formed, how anxiety, burnout and doubt can be faced with faith and evidence-based tools, and how to build a life of purpose.

WHAT CLIENTS ARE SAYING

"He has taken a non-traditional approach that still remains grounded in Islamic values and our way of life... He listens with intention, creates a space that feels safe and balanced for both of us, and encourages empathy in a way that feels practical and deeply respectful."

"His approach is calm, clear, and compassionate, and always rooted in what will benefit the marriage, not just the individual."

"He combines his excellent grasp of the subject matter with a high level of empathy, kindness, trustworthiness and respect for his clientele."

For every young Muslim between 18 and 25 who wants a faith that holds, and a mind that is well.
